i DID learn! :p

hehe PS, your ACU biochem class was waaaay more detailed than my Baylor biochem class. granted, the latter was only in one semester instead of two, and biochem in undergrad wasn't a required pre-req, and it was clinical rather than technical....anyway. the point is, i really did learn stuff the FIRST time around, b/c it made grad school biochem a piece of cake! i credit you, profe 😊

how's the new lady, btw?
