From: Brian Cole, Ed.D. Program Director & Associate Professor
Re: LEAD 751 Course Name & Description Change

Please add item #4 Content (Substantive Change) to the Approval Chart for Curriculum Changes for LEAD 751, a new course being considered for approval. This involves a change in the course name and description (shown below) from what is currently listed for LEAD 751 in the academic catalog and in the new course application.

LEAD 751: Positive Organizational Culture

Students learn why culture matters in organizational success and how to create a positive culture. Topics include: macroculture and microculture, workplace design, culture at different stages of the growth/change cycle, purpose-driven cultures, cultures of teamwork, learning and innovation, and toxic cultures vs. cultures that promote health and well-being.
