

Uber for Business

Uber recognizes that business travel can be demanding for your employees.

That is why we are committed to going above and beyond to deliver the best possible experience for business travelers.

Uber is pleased to introduce its first Business Rewards program - exclusively for your employees.

How to earn Business Rewards with Uber

PLUS 2-for-1!

Take 5 eligible work rides of $10 or more

Get $5 to use on personal rides or Uber Eats

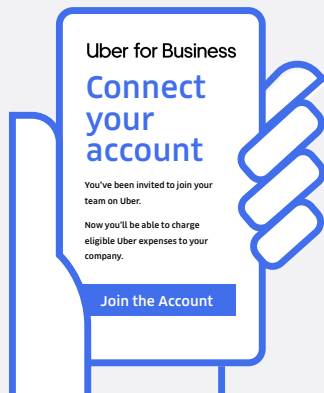

Keep riding, keep earning

Each trip to or from an airport of $10 or more counts twice toward your total

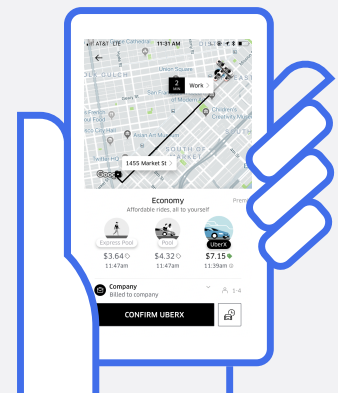

How your employees ride on your business account

1 Employees receive an email invitation to link their Uber account to the company's Uber for Business program

2 When employees request a ride, they choose their company as their payment method

3 Employees charge rides to their business profile and get receipts sent to their work email

Terms: Because your company established its Uber for Business account in the United States, this rewards program is only available to employees whose home country for their personal Uber account is the United States. Eligible rides are paid for by an authorized Uber for Business business account, and trips may be taken anywhere Uber operates throughout the world. Fares, regardless of where they occur, are calculated in the local currency but must be equivalent to at least $10 USD, excluding tips. Rewards credits may only be accrued by riders with personal Uber accounts in the United States for $5 USD, and may only be redeemed in the United States. The credits may not be redeemed for cash and cannot be transferred. May not be combined with other offers or discounts. Terms subject to change. If your company created an Uber for Business account outside of the United States, please review the frequently asked questions (<https://www.uber.com/blog/-faq-rider-rewards-for-uber-for-business/>) to see if your employees are eligible for rewards.
