Dear Colleagues,
I hope this email finds you well.

During some recent Adams Center training sessions, some have expressed strong wishes to see some exemplary courses. Therefore, the Adams Center would love to have a Canvas course showcase, via Zoom, between Noon and 1:00PM on Thursday, July 30, 2020. I have seen your courses and thought yours could be great to share, either in its entirety or specific things you did. First of all, let me know if you will be available and willing to share, for about 3 minutes, something that you did with your course. If you can do it, I will contact you for more details. Please reply by tomorrow (Wednesday) at midnight if you are willing.

Thank you in advance!
