To whom it may concern:

I have known Jim Drachenberg since 2018 when he and his family placed membership at the Oldham Lane Church of Christ. Since then he and his family have been active in the work of the church here. Jim leads prayers, serves on the Lord's Table, teaches adult Bible classes, leads singing and makes announcements. I have eaten fellowship meals with him at church, and outside of church I have enjoyed shooting sporting clays with Jim on several occasions.

The Drachenbergs are faithful members in good standing at OLCC. Even when OLCC was only live-streaming Sunday morning services, Jim and Annie and family along with both sets of parents and Annie's brother and family met together for worship.

Jim has been responsible for inviting several ACU students to worship, resulting in them becoming regular attendees. In an interview with an OLCC member who is a student in Jim's department, the student described Jim as having the highest of Christian principles and having the respect of fellow students and ACU teachers.

According to our deacon of finance, the Drachenberg family contributes generously every week and participates in special offerings also.

Because of my personal and acquired knowledge of Jim and his family, I know they are one of the finest families in Abilene and it is a blessing to have them as members at OLCC.

If you would like to speak to me personally about Jim and his commitment and service, please call me anytime.

Sincerely,

Jack Smith
