Publications: Measures Facilitating Access to Archival Finding Aids and Rare Books

- 2013-present Served as co-author, author, and supervisor for collection-level arrangement and description of 550 archival collections. The processes varied by collection, but each collection required some manner of appraisal and preliminary assessment. Many collections required accessioning. All collections received appropriate arrangement and description of analog materials in a variety of media; preparation, assembly, generation, and verification of MARC-ready metadata (shared with Technical Services Department); preparation and verification of expanded descriptive metadata for publication to a Finding Aids Series on the institutional repository (DigitalCommons.acu.edu). In some cases, the description, or intellectual control, was as granular as folder- or item-level. In every case physical control was established through co-locating, labelling, and shelving all boxes and containers.
- 2013-present Trained and supervised student workers in the process of verification of materials for inclusion in rare books and other print collections.
- 2005 Author of Finding Aid for Records of the National Christian Missionary Convention / National Convocation of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). These materials pertain to the official proceedings, actions, and assemblies of the NCMC and NCCC(DoC). Accessioned, processed, arranged, described, and housed 65 cu ft. of archival, manuscript and institutional records, print materials and ephemera, photographs, realia and artifacts during the summer of 2005.
