 - Her emails were always filled with scriptures and encouragement.
 - she was very helpful and had a servants heart
 - Constantly available for students and understanding of circumstances. Comments were always encouraging on the assignments that were completed. I also liked the usage of the Poverty, Inc. video to help provide a new perspective.

- Every email sent to students has a scripture of the day.
 - She was understanding, and willing to work with her students.
 - Always willing to offer help and insight, very patient with any questions I had. Always conducted herself in a professional & loving manner.
 - Talking to her in her office hours and the way she set up the video's prompted students to dig into the word and apply those practices in micro.
 - Great teacher, although I didnt have the chance to meet! Great at responding to emails!
