¹ Councils may request additional information about “Information” items. These items are approved as “Consent Agenda.”

² The Dean and Department should respond to the Provost’s recommendation to close a program in writing. Advise & Respond (R) requires that the voting body should receive the written responses at least one week prior to the vote.

³ All courses that meet University Requirements for general education must go through UGEC. Courses or degrees offered only to students seeking teacher certification must go through the Teacher Education Council. All undergraduate changes must go before the UUAC. All graduate degree plan changes must go through the Graduate Council.

⁴ A minimum of 30 hours is required for a major. A maximum is specified for each degree (e.g., BA, BS). The university minimum for elective hours is 6, unless the requirements of external accrediting bodies make it impossible.

⁵ Program or course changes that apply to any major that includes Teacher Certification will be reviewed by the college, the Teacher Education Council (TEC), and then the UUAC.

⁶ Courses that satisfy ACU’s University Requirements (General Education) will normally have lower-level numbering, be free of prerequisites and co-requisites, appeal to more than one or two majors, and “not narrowly focus on those skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession” (SACS 2.7.3). Departments may request exceptions to the first three criteria.

⁷ The UUAC approved the clarification that “general requirements for graduation” means the enumerated items in the “General Requirements for Bachelor’s Degrees” section of the catalog.

Application for Arts and Humanities Menu

Guidelines For All General Education Courses

1. All general education courses must be 100-level or above.
2. General education courses should present a breadth of knowledge, not focusing on skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession.
3. Individual courses will fulfill only a single general education requirement.
4. Courses free of prerequisites are preferred. Applications to add courses with prerequisites must provide additional evidence that the course contributes to a student's breadth of knowledge and is not specific to a particular occupation or profession.
5. Each course may appear on a maximum of two menus that accept applications (arts and humanities, cultural literacy, life and physical sciences, and social and behavioral sciences).

Arts and Humanities Description

Courses within this domain will expose students to other cultures, time periods, and points of view through a wide variety of media. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the human condition, relevance and aesthetics of rhetorical claims, interrogating one's own personal worldviews, and drawing conclusions from analysis of artifacts.

Instructions

Complete this form and submit it with a course syllabus and approval chart to the University General Education Council. Faculty submitting an application should be prepared to perform annual assessment for their course. The assessment will be conducted with the rubric included in this course application. See the last page of this document for explanation of disciplines that will be considered for the menu.

Description of Menu Fit

Please describe how your class fits into the Arts and Humanities Menu (200 words or less).

This course provides the discursive tools for analyzing the Spanish language, culture, and literature, especially as these three areas of intellectual inquiry form —and are formed by— each other.

Prerequisites

If the course has prerequisites, provide evidence that the course contributes to a student's breadth of knowledge. Also provide evidence that the course content is not specific to a particular occupation or profession (200 words or less).

While the course has a prerequisite of SPAN 222, Spanish is the most widely studied language other than English in the US and is the largest heritage language among second and third generation immigrants. We currently receive several incoming students who test into this level, and expect more as ACU moves towards an HSI designation. The exploration of the interconnection between language, culture, and literature contributes to a student's ability to think critically cross-culturally and across disciplines.

Relevant Outcomes

- A2: Listen to, understand, and critically evaluate rhetorical claims.
- B1: Demonstrate competent discourse in global, historical, and cultural experiences of diverse populations.
- B2: Understand the interconnectedness of the human experience with a posture of humility while celebrating difference.
- B3: Interrogate one's internal and external views and values for greater self-awareness.
- C2: Analyze quantitative data, published writing, or observable phenomena to draw informed conclusions.

Describe how the course meets the A2 outcome (100 words or less).

The main purpose of the course is to give students foundational vocabulary and concept for studying linguistics, culture, and literature in Spanish, and their interconnectedness. As part of this process, students are shown how to integrate concepts and vocabulary in Spanish in linguistics, culture and literary criticism in order to evaluate literary texts in Spanish.

Describe how the course meets the C2 outcome (100 words or less).

The main purpose of the course is to give students the foundational vocabulary and concept for studying linguistics, culture, and literature in Spanish, and their interconnectedness. As part of this process, students are shown how to integrate concepts and vocabulary in Spanish in linguistics, culture and literary criticism in order to analyze and draw informed conclusions about literature in Spanish, as well as cultural practices, products, and the underlying perspectives.

Describe how the course meets at least one or more of the following outcomes: B1, B2, B3 (200 words or less).

The main purpose of the course is to give students the principal vocabulary and concept for studying linguistics, culture, and literature in Spanish, and their interconnectedness. As part of this process, students are shown how to integrate concepts and vocabulary in linguistics, culture and literary criticism in order to competently discourse on historical and cultural experiences of the Spanish-speaking world, as evidenced in its history and literature.

Outcomes assessment should occur within one or two exams/assignments. Please indicate which exams or assignments will be used for each outcome. Provide assignment prompts if available.

Area to Be Assessed	Assessment Artifact
Outcome A2	Exploración (see About the Evaluation Methods in the Syllabus)
Outcome C2	Exploración (see About the Evaluation Methods in the Syllabus)
Outcome B1, B2, or B3 *note which of the 3 outcomes will be assessed	Exploración (see About the Evaluation Methods in the Syllabus), B1 and B2

Please use the following rubric to perform assessment each year.

Effective interrogation of personal views with some attention to self-awareness.	Exemplary interrogation of personal views with an eye toward self-awareness.

Disciplines to Consider

Proposed courses should fit commonly accepted practices across disciplines. As an external indicator of what constitutes Humanities disciplines, we have consulted the American Academy of Arts and Sciences definition, which lists the following disciplines as humanities:

- Art and music history, musicology, and the academic study of drama and cinema
- American Studies and Area Studies (e.g., Latin American Studies, Africana Studies, etc.)
- Archeology
- Communication, including media studies, but not professionalization-oriented coursework
- Cultural, Ethnic, & Gender Studies: Programs studying from an interdisciplinary perspective race, ethnic, gender, or cultural groups, such as Black studies, Hispanic studies, women's studies, gender studies.
- English Language and Literature: English, American, and Anglophone literature; general literature programs; creative writing; speech and rhetoric (does not include technical and business writing programs).
- History
- Languages & Literatures Other than English: Modern languages and literature; linguistics; classics and ancient languages; comparative literature.
- Jurisprudence: Includes philosophy of law.
- Philosophy
- Religion: Programs in the comparative, nonsectarian study of religion; studies of particular religions; history of religion; does not include programs in theology or ministry.
- Selected Interdisciplinary Studies: General humanities programs; programs in the study of a particular historical period (e.g., medieval and Renaissance studies, classical and ancient studies, holocaust studies, etc.).

The criteria team anticipates some overlap with other menus, particularly cultural literacy.

In ACU's specific institutional context, the council recognizes religion as a humanities discipline but will not consider Bible courses for the Arts and Humanities menu because of the number of hours reserved in the Bible and Theology menu for these courses in the general education requirements.

SPAN 301: ADVANCED COMMUNICATION

SYLLABUS, FALL 2022

MISSION STATEMENTS

The mission of Abilene Christian University is to educate students for Christian service and leadership throughout the world.

The mission of the College of Arts and Sciences is to educate students for worldwide Christian service and leadership through programs of study and other learning experiences that blend a liberal arts education with professional and career education. The college offers a broad spectrum of programs in the arts, humanities, mathematics and social behavioral and natural sciences as well as professional and pre-professional programs. Every student at ACU regardless of major passes through the College of Arts and Sciences because most of the university's core curriculum is housed in the college.

The mission of the Department of Language and Literature is to empower students to fulfill the “throughout the world” element of the university’s mission, preparing them to connect with the languages, cultures, and peoples of other nations.

ABOUT THE STUDENT

This class is intended as a first advanced class for students pursuing a major or minor in Spanish. A minimum of Intermediate low proficiency suggested (see ACTFL proficiency levels, in Canvas).

ABOUT THE COURSE CONTENT

SPAN 301 Advanced Communication (3-0-3), fall. An introduction to the Spanish major and minor. Introduction of reading and writing skills that will be expected in all advanced courses. Introduction of cultural and literary concepts that will be further explored in all advanced courses. Prerequisite: SPAN 222 or equivalent through testing.

ABOUT THE CHRISTIAN PERSPECTIVE FOR THE COURSE

The Bible contains essentially two perspectives on language. In the first one, the mere existence of different languages is presented as a curse from God in the story of Babel (Genesis 11: 1-9); God created different languages to confuse the people as a punishment for their hubris. However, since the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, we encounter a new perspective; what was once a curse was transformed into an instrument of redemption. On the day of Pentecost, through the Holy Spirit, the first apostles were able to bridge the curse of Babel by preaching the Good News in the languages of the people assembled there (Acts 2: 1-11). Therefore, the study of another language –its syntax, grammar, punctuation, etc – is seen as participating in the redemptive work God initiated through His son Jesus Christ.

ABOUT THE CLASS FORMAT

This is primarily a lecture-based course. It will introduce concepts that will be further developed throughout the major and minor curriculum as well as continue to develop language skills (especially reading and writing) to the level required to perform satisfactorily at the advanced level.

There are three cycles of lectures, readings, and work --language, culture, and literature--that correspond with the three big areas of study that make up Hispanic Studies as a field.

LEARNING PHILOSOPHY

The design of this course takes into account research conducted in cognitive sciences. Here are some suggestions to maximize your language acquisition during the next six weeks:

- ☐ Research in cognitive sciences tells us interweaving of learning activities (focusing on a task, then taking a break to do something else, then coming back to that task) is the most effective way to acquire new knowledge and develop new skills. This applies in smaller units of time and in greater units as well. For instance, five one-hour sessions throughout the week is more productive than one five hour session. Likewise, two one-hour sessions is more productive than one two-hour session.
- ☐ Everyone's cognitive load (the ability to focus intensely on a task) is different, so you will need to figure out a good daily rhythm and pace for interweaving your Spanish activities. You should factor this in as you work out a system that keeps you on top of the course's schedule. If you know you will be unable to work on this class for a few days (work, big project in another class, etc.), work ahead on initial presentation and additional drilling activities. Also, make preparations to continue additional interweaving. The last thing you want to do is get behind.

- Research in cognitive sciences tells us intensive drilling (sadly) is the most effective method to internalize information and develop higher orders of proficiency. As much as we all may dislike so-called “drill-and-kill” activities, continuous repetition has proven to be the single most effective method to internalize knowledge. Therefore, there are many additional drill activities built into the course. Many are for a grade, but many can be done throughout the day in “one minute Spanish drills.”
 - Install Quizlet on your phone and drill vocabulary while waiting in the checkout line at the grocery store.
 - Keep a list of terms on your phone in notes and review them every so often.
 - Add a Spanish keyboard layout to your phone, and practice dictating notes, texts, or emails in Spanish; if Siri can understand you, your pronunciation is good enough for anyone to understand you.
- Finally, the endpoint of learning Spanish is to communicate with others. Therefore the course includes oral and written integrative activities.

ABOUT THE EVALUATION METHODS

1. Conversaciones (10%). Two to three per unit, main post and two replies.
2. Tarea (30%) Homework (mostly from Avanzando) on reading and grammar activities.
3. Comprobaciones (30%).
 1. Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI), through the testing center. See canvas for instructions
 2. Cultural Quotient Survey (CQS), in Canvas.
 3. Module Exams.
4. Exploración (30%). An ongoing paper which is half reflection paper on the lectures (charlas) and readings (Lecturas), and half research which reflects intellectual curiosity to know more than what was presented in class. It will be turned in in installments throughout the semester. The purpose of the paper is to evaluate appreciatively rhetorical claims made about Hispanic cultural practices in literature as a reflection of underlying Hispanic cultural perspectives.

ABOUT ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Attendance is mandatory. Excused absences will require documentation. Illness, especially if it is related to COVID-19, will be treated in a case-by-case basis. Four unexcused absences will not incur a penalty. Each unexcused absence beyond that will incur a 5-point reduction in the final grade. It is your responsibility to keep up with what happened in class if you are absent.

ABOUT THE COURSE POLICIES

- All late work will receive a 5% deduction per day late.
- Academic integrity is defined as academic work completed as assigned for each class by the individual or group responsible for the work. Violations of academic integrity and other forms of cheating involve the intention to deceive, mislead, or misrepresent and therefore, are a form of lying. Such actions are contrary to behavioral norms that flow from the nature of God. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following: 1) Failure to give credit to sources used in a work in an attempt to present the work as one's own, 2) Submission of papers or projects obtained from another source (e.g., research service or club paper file) as one's own, and 3) Falsifying information orally or in writing. Academic misconduct may result in, but is not limited to, a zero on the assignment and/or an F in the course. Additionally, the department chair, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Dean of Student Life will be notified. See the full university policy, including how to appeal a decision, by following this link: <http://www.acu.edu/community/offices/administrative/office-of-the-provost/academic-integrity-policy.html>.

- Accommodations for Students with Special Needs. Abilene Christian University is dedicated to removing barriers and opening access for students with disabilities in compliance with ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The Alpha Scholars Program facilitates disability accommodations in cooperation with instructors. In order to receive accommodations, you must be registered with Alpha Scholars Program, and you must complete a specific request for each class in which you need accommodations. If you have a documented disability and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please call our office directly at (325) 674-2667, or visit this link: <http://www.acu.edu/community/academics/alpha-scholars/services/disability-support-services.html>.
- Harassment policy. As a Christian community, Abilene Christian University has committed itself, unequivocally, to ensuring a working and learning environment in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Harassment is defined as unwelcome behavior or conduct based on sex, religion, race, age, color, national origin, veteran's status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law when (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment, education, or participation in University programs or activities, (2) submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for a decision affecting an individual's employment, education, or participation in University programs or activities, or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment for work, education, or participation in a University program or activity. For full university policy, follow this link: <http://www.acu.edu/community/offices/administrative/dean-of-students/sexual-assault-and-anti-harassment-title-ix/overview.html>.
- Electronic Translators: The use of electronic translators is strictly prohibited. It is easily noticeable by a native speaker, and completely defeats the purpose of developing your own language skills. The activities assigned will never require you to produce language beyond your level and what we have covered in class. The purpose of the assignments is to assess how you handle the material learned, not to show how much you know beyond what we covered in class. If it's assigned to you, you can do it without unnecessary crutches. An assigned activity that reflects the use of electronic online translators in this beginning language class will be given a grade of 0 (zero).
