¹ When an academic unit does not have a council, the UGEC and/or UUAC will serve as its academic council, depending on the nature of the issue.

² Courses that satisfy ACU's University Requirements will normally have lower-level numbering, be free of prerequisites and co-requisites, appeal to more than one or two majors, and "not narrowly focus on those skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession" (SACS 2.7.3). Departments may request exceptions to the first three criteria.

³ For undergraduate majors, a minimum of 30 hours is required. These programs must have a minimum of 6 elective hours, unless the requirements of external accrediting bodies make it impossible.

Application for Cultural Literacy Menu

Guidelines For All General Education Courses

1. All general education courses must be 100-level or above.
2. General education courses should present a breadth of knowledge, not focusing on skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession.
3. Individual courses will fulfill only a single general education requirement.
4. Courses free of prerequisites are preferred. Applications to add courses with prerequisites must provide additional evidence that the course contributes to a student's breadth of knowledge and is not specific to a particular occupation or profession.
5. Each course may appear on a maximum of two menus that accept applications (arts and humanities, cultural literacy, life and physical sciences, and social and behavioral sciences).

Cultural Literacy Description

Courses within this domain provide students opportunity to develop informed discourse and understand the interconnectedness of diverse peoples. Additionally, students will courageously interrogate their own internal processes about diversity and equity. Courses satisfying this menu will assist students to 1) explore global, historical, and cultural experiences of diverse populations, and 2) interrogate one's internal and external views and values for greater self-awareness.

Instructions

Complete this form and submit it with a course syllabus and approval chart to the University General Education Council. Faculty submitting an application should be prepared to perform annual assessment for their course. The assessment will be conducted with the rubric included in this course application.

Description of Menu Fit

Please describe how your class fits into the Cultural Literacy Menu (200 words or less). The course description, this statement, and the course syllabus together should demonstrate that a substantial portion of the course content (about half) is dedicated to issues involving the three relevant outcomes listed below.

Using an ethnomusicological methodology, this course studies music in culture and as culture. Students learn about diverse non-western and indigenous cultures by examining “traditional, classical, and contemporary music from selected world cultures through representative genres, characteristics, and styles” (course description). The course explores music “as a cultural phenomenon, including its role in both religious and secular activities” (outcome 3), and it engages these cultures aesthetically by developing students’ critical listening / analytical skills and knowledge so they can appreciate and understand the diverse approaches to making music around the world (course description in syllabus). Students employ these analytical skills and the required vocabulary to identify stylistic characteristics (outcomes 1-2) and to articulate ideas about world cultural traditions (outcome 5). A goal of the course is “to develop a broader, more global worldview” by learning about world cultures through their musical activities (course description in syllabus).

Prerequisites

If the course has prerequisites, provide evidence that the course contributes to a student’s breadth of knowledge. Also provide evidence that the course content is not specific to a particular occupation or profession (200 words or less).

There are no prerequisites. The course was designed for a general audience and doesn’t require prior training in music, as the syllabus states.

Relevant Outcomes

At a minimum, a course applying to the Cultural Literacy menu must use at least one topic or activity listed below each of the mapped outcomes:

- B1: Demonstrate competent discourse in global, historical, and cultural experiences of diverse populations.

- Account for and explain divergent perspectives on cultural phenomenon (e.g., female face-coverings in Islamic communities, “nepotism” in collectivistic contexts, aesthetic values in a certain historical period, etc.).
- Demonstrate how social and historical contexts shape a community’s worldview or cultural commitments.
- Study or write a case study of inculturation, ritual, or morality that emerges from a specific cultural context.
- Identify underlying values, ideologies, perspectives, and attitudes that account for external cultural practices and products of a specific culture, particularly as these are expressed through its language.
- Through measurable assessments, compare the cultural perspectives of another culture with those of a student’s own culture and reflect through adequate speech (oral or written) on how this knowledge prepares them to be culturally sensitive professionals.
- B2: Understand the interconnectedness of human experience with a posture of humility while celebrating difference.
 - Reflect on a specific issue(s) considering the notion of cultural humility or ethnorelativity.
 - Evaluate appreciatively the music, ritual, art, theatre, or religious expression of a different culture.
 - Engage in and reflect upon a special event or celebration that highlights a different cultural background.
 - Requires students to attend and actively participate in an event honoring or presenting one or more aspects of a racial/cultural group that they do not identify with and respond to that event by a writing assignment or another medium.
 - Study and evaluate an accepted institutional or association statement on culture, race, or diversity (e.g., UN Declaration on Cultural Diversity, American Anthropological Association Declaration on Anthropology and Human Rights, etc.) and reflect upon it from a discipline-specific and/or faith perspective.
 - Require students to both recognize and demonstrate their respect for differences along at least two of the following axes of difference: gender, class, religion, sexuality, disability, age, or a major cultural difference (e.g., race, ethnicity, individualism-collectivism, high-low power distance orientation, high-low uncertainty avoidance, etc.).
 - Analyze attitudes and practices of working with those of differing cultural perspectives (at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels) with a presence of humility while learning, communicating, offering help, and making decisions in professional practice and settings.
 - Create a rationale (moral, ethical, religious) for maintaining an interpersonal stance that is other-oriented (open to the other) in relation to aspects of cultural identity that are most important to a person or persons of a different cultural perspective.

- Reflect upon the cultural dimensions of complex challenges of human interconnections (e.g., changing relations within and between human communities, changing relations with ecological and climatic conditions, shifts in technology, migration, environmental degradation, new technologies, etc.).
- B3: Interrogate one's internal and external views and values for greater self-awareness.
 - Reflect upon one's social location regarding race and at least two of the following: gender, class, sexuality, disability, age.
 - Create a framework to discuss and demonstrate critical reflection up cultural differences in the workplace
 - Feature personal reflections which involves diverse cultural perspectives not typical of mainstream North American culture.
 - Feature personal reflections on the intersection of biography (identifying the origins of the content of their reflections) and social inequality/injustice on race, gender, sexuality, social class, disability, and/or age
 - Require students to read/listen/view content created by one or more persons whose work connects social inequality with personal experience.
 - Examine systems of privilege and oppression that shape students' perspectives, values, and behavior, with a focus on race, gender, sexuality, social class, disability, and/or age.
 - Require students to examine critically their social location regarding race as a system of inequality and at least two of the following: gender, sexuality, disability, age as systems of inequality.
 - No less than 50% of course content focuses on one or more of the following: cultural difference, power, privilege, structural and institutional inequality.
 - No less than 40% of course content features diverse sources of knowledge integrated throughout the semester, including but not limited to indigenous, spiritual, community-centered, or otherwise marginalized knowledges.
 - No less than 40% of the course content focuses on structural and institutional social change in one or more of the following contexts: campus, community, state, nation, global region, or global system.
 - Provide an account of why it is important not be neutral regarding power relations and cultural hegemony, especially white supremacy, and all forms of racism.

From the lists above, indicate which topic or activity fulfills this course's connection to each learning outcome.

Outcome	Topic or Activity
Outcome B1	Account for and explain divergent perspectives on cultural phenomenon Identify underlying values, ideologies, perspectives, and attitudes that account for external cultural practices and products of a specific culture, particularly as these are expressed through its language. [With music as a language that itself often uses language (in vocal music)]

Outcome B2	Evaluate appreciatively the music, ritual, art, theatre, or religious expression of a different culture.
Outcome B3	No less than 40% of course content features diverse sources of knowledge integrated throughout the semester, including but not limited to indigenous, spiritual, community-centered, or otherwise marginalized knowledges. [With art/music, along with discourse about them, as a sources of knowledge]

Assessment

Ideally, assessment will occur within one or two exams/assignments. Please indicate which exams or assignments will be used for each outcome. These artifacts may be the same as the activities listed in the Relevant Outcomes section. Provide assignment prompts if available.

Area to Be Assessed	Assessment Artifact
Outcome B1	Final Exam
Outcome B2	Final Exam
Outcome B3	Final Exam

Please use the following rubric to perform assessment each year.

Student Learning Outcome B1

Students will be able to:	Shortcomings	Meets Expectations	Points of Excellence

MUSM 233.01: Survey of World Music

Fall, 2022

TR 9:30-10:45 a.m. — WPAC 157 (Fry Rehearsal Hall)

professor: Dr. Allen Teel

office: WPAC 153

email: teela@acu.edu

ACU Mission Statement: To educate students for Christian service throughout the world.

Course Description

Music exists in all societies and is a basic activity of human life. This course is a survey of traditional, folk, classical, and popular music from selected world cultures. In addition to gaining an appreciation and understanding of the diverse approaches to making music around the world, our goal is to develop a broader, more global worldview as we learn about people of various world cultures through their musical activities. This kind of worldview is important for all of us as we encounter an increasingly globalized society. The course does not require previous musical training.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the semester, you will be able to:

1. Apply critical listening skills to audio and audiovisual musical examples from a wide range of cultural sources
2. Recognize and apply specific musical terms to the discussion of musical characteristics and styles of selected world music styles
3. Understand music as a cultural phenomenon, including its role in both religious and secular activities
4. Demonstrate basic knowledge about the geographic and historical aspects of the musical cultures studied
5. Demonstrate basic research skills and ability to write about and reflect on examples of various world cultural traditions

Measurement Instrument	Learning Outcome
Online assignments (summaries of reading and viewing assignments), quizzes, etc.	1, 2, 3, 4
Exams (short answer, essay, and video identification)	1, 2, 3, 4
Final exam (comprehensive)	1, 2, 3, 4
Mid-Semester Reflection assignment (on selected topic, submitted on Canvas)	1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Course Policies

Textbook: None is required. All reading and audiovisual materials will be posted on Canvas, as will various assignments. You are responsible for checking your emails frequently about course assignments, and for staying on top of all assignments and materials posted on Canvas.

Class Format: Class Format: We will meet in regular classroom sessions (every Tuesday and Thursday) to participate in extensive guided listening and viewing activities, discuss readings and musical performances, take quizzes over daily assignments, participate in classroom “hands-on” activities, and take exams over listening and written materials. Attendance is a critical component of the class: the attendance policy is explained below.

Class seating: We will have assigned seating this semester. This is to help me learn your names and allow me to take daily attendance quickly and efficiently.

Attendance: Because guided listening and viewing exercises play such a vital role in this course, regular attendance is expected.

Excused absences are typically limited to:

- School-sponsored/approved activities: signed “Advance Approval for Absence” form required
- Illness
- Exceptional emergency in your immediate family

You must notify me before class is missed for an absence to be excused. If I don’t hear from you before you miss a class, the absence will be recorded as unexcused.

Special information about COVID-19 and other highly communicable diseases

The following information is taken from ACU’s Coronavirus: Important Information and Protocols web page. It provides further information that you should familiarize yourself with

As we begin the 2022-23 academic year, we are asking individuals to be responsible for their own wellness and considerate of the greater ACU community by reporting COVID-19 positive cases to the Weber Medical Clinic and taking appropriate precautions when ill. The ACU Medical Clinic, in partnership with the administration, will monitor trends and caseloads throughout the year.

Attendance and Your Grade:

1. After two unexcused absences, each additional unexcused absence will result in the deduction of 5 points from your final examination grade.
2. Absences in excess of 20% of class meetings (6 TR classes) will result in the student being automatically dropped from the class with a grade of WF. This means that if you miss a total of 7 class periods for any reason — excused or unexcused — you will be dropped from the course with a grade of WF. If your seventh absence occurs after the last day to drop classes, you will receive an F in the course.
3. Special consideration may be given if any student has exceptional health challenges that can be documented by a health care provider.

Tardiness: Please come to class on time. It is important to be present for intermittent quizzes over the reading and listening assignments: these will be given at the beginning of the class period.

Examinations: There will be four exams. These will be taken in the classroom; most (or all) will require using Canvas and the Respondus Lockdown Browser. IMPORTANT: In order to have access to the video files used for each exam, you will need a laptop. Cellphones and tablets are not compatible with video examples when using the lockdown browser. If you do not own a laptop, you can check one out from the library for exams.

Grades: The course grade will be determined according to the following components:

Listening/Written Examinations	60%
Quizzes on Read/Watch Listen pages, other assignments	10%
Mid-Semester Reflection	5%
Final Exam	25%

Grading scale: We will use a ten-point scale for grades: A=90-100, B=80-89, C=70-79, D=60-69, F=59 and below.

Statement on Academic Integrity: All forms of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism, will be dealt with according to the university's Academic Integrity Policy. The full policy is available for review on the following page: Academic Integrity Policy

In summary, the typical consequences for plagiarism or other forms of academic dishonesty, such as cheating on quizzes or exams, are as follows:

- First incident: a zero on the assignment or exam; incident is reported to appropriate deans.
- Second incident: F in the course and immediate referral to Dean of Students.

Special Needs Policy: Abilene Christian University is dedicated to removing barriers and opening access for students with disabilities in compliance with ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The Alpha Scholars Program facilitates disability accommodations in cooperation with instructors. In order to receive accommodations, you must be registered with Alpha Scholars Program, and you must complete a specific request for each class in which you need accommodations. If you have a documented disability and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please call the Alpha office directly at \(325\) 674-2667.

In summary, the keys to succeeding in this course are to:

1. Come to class, but only if you are healthy and not experiencing symptoms of any illness. If you are ill, be sure to email me before you miss class in order to receive an excused absence.
2. Spend adequate time on each day's Read/Watch/Listen assignments.
3. Complete and submit all assignments, quizzes, and exams on time.
4. Approach the semester with an open mind and a healthy sense of curiosity.

Please email me to schedule an appointment for a meeting if you have any questions or concerns about this class, or if there's anything I can help you with.

Note: This syllabus is current as of 8/30/22, but is subject to change if we need to make adjustments. Updated versions will be posted on Canvas if necessary.
