II. Curriculum

- A. Explain effect on degree plans. If the addition of the course alters degree requirements, submit a separate Approval Chart for Curriculum Change to update the degree plan.

This course will be added to the BCSO degree plan so that students can take this course or BIBH 432 History of Christian Spirituality for their second History/Theology course.

THEOLOGY/HISTORY - 3 HOURS

BIBT 342 - Christianity in Culture Credit Hours: 3 *

Select one of the following:

BIBH 432 - Story of Christian Spirituality Credit Hours: 3

BCSO 442- Contemporary Ecclesiology Credit Hours: 3

- B. Justify the addition of this course to the current curriculum, explaining the gap it meets.
A common obstacle for church leaders is lack of imagination on how the church can be a vessel of Christ in our age. Church leaders see shrinking numbers—financially and physically— and they are aware that times have changed, but beyond rearranging furniture on the sinking ship they do not know how to reimagine church in a way that effectively embodies Christ in today's post-Christian America. BMSO 420 Gospel in a Multicultural World addresses some of the problems and inner work to solve these challenges, like defining "Good News" that is received as Good News to marginalized people and contrasting the religious environment of the first century to America today, but there is not a course in the degree program that teaches practical applications of this in regard to the church system itself, which is a pressing issue for church leaders. It is common for church leaders facing financial and missional crises in churches to resort to business model alternatives, thus delaying the inevitable or malforming the church further from the Body of Christ. This course would teach leaders the basics of ecclesiology to include the biblical visions of church, how to navigate today's churches' struggles with best practices, like when and how a church can celebrate a life lived and disband or re-launch, merge with another church, transition into a fresh expression, the rise of micro churches, and characteristics of healthy churches in post-Christian America that value diversity, despite size.

BIHO 432 Story of Christian Spirituality works well as a theological and historical option for students pursuing spiritual formation/direction, parachurch vocations, or planning on mental health related master's degree programs. But the students pursuing congregational life, and especially the students in the Christian Leadership certificates, need something more practical for the most pressing issues of church today. This is currently lacking in the program.

In addition to being a certificate requirement, this course could be taken as an upper level Bible option, and will be added as an option in the B.S. Christian Service and Formation degree plan as it fills a noted gap in the comprehensive ministry preparation currently in the degree.

III. Course Design

A. Audience and Course Goal

1. Describe the intended audience, including prerequisite skills.

This course is designed for students currently working or planning to work in Christian congregations, those in the BCSO degree plan, and Christian leaders earning the Certificate in Christian Leadership: Praxis.

2. State the overarching course goal(s) in performance terms.

The goals of this course are to introduce students to the field of ecclesiology and the scriptural descriptions and mission of the church. In addition, this course is intended to broaden the vision of what a faithful church can be in our age that integrates diversity, leads by the Spirit, and develops as a vessel for Christ in communities.

In order to actively participate in discussions, you will need to log in multiple days each week. This will help you stay up-to-date on the discussions and allow you to make more thoughtful postings. You are expected to answer all of the discussion questions assigned in a week in a substantive manner. All initial postings and responses will be due by 11:59 pm CST by the due date indicated in Canvas. No late posting will be accepted.

Weekly Assignments

Engaged Learning in an Online Format

This online course invites students into a community of engaged scholarship. The course consists of seven weekly modules, with a new module beginning each Tuesday morning in the Canvas LMS (Learning Management System). We expect students to log in to the course frequently, master the course material, whether written or in other digital media formats, and to engage the professor and fellow students through the Canvas medium.

Note: If a student fails to log in the course for the first 7 days of the official course, the student will receive an email notifying them that they are at risk to be administratively withdrawn from the course. The student will have 72 hours to log into the course from that email notification. If the student does not log into the course in that period of time, they will be administratively withdrawn. The last day to withdraw from a course is the Wednesday before the last week of class. Please reference the handbook calendar for a full list of dates. If a student has not participated in the course at any point, before the last week of class the student will be administratively withdrawn. An assignment is defined as a paper, quiz, discussion post, or project in the course. If a life situation occurs that will prevent the student from participating in the course for a brief period of time, the student is responsible for communicating this to their Student Service Advisor and/ or New Student Ambassador, and instructor to make appropriate arrangements.

Technology Requirements

Students should ensure they meet the technology requirements as outlined in the ACU Online Student Handbook.

Your faculty will determine the date for submission of the revised paper.

Late Assignments

Assignments are due by 11:59 pm Central Standard time on the due date. Refer to the Canvas Syllabus link or the Canvas Modules link for a list of all due dates. Penalty for late assignments is 10% per calendar day late. Weekend days are counted as late days. For administrative purposes, a zero will be placed in the gradebook for work not submitted on time. If an assignment is submitted after the zero is given or if an arrangement for late submission has been made with the instructor, the noted penalty percentage will be used to re-assess the assignment (removing the zero). Extensions are allowed at the discretion of the instructor and/or Program Director. No credit will be awarded for late discussion posts. Extra credit will not be available in this course.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is defined as academic work completed as assigned for each class by the individual or group responsible for the work. Academic work includes but is not limited to reading assignments, assessments and examinations, attendance at required out-of-class activities, written or oral presentations, laboratory experiments and research. Assignments may or may not be submitted through the TurnItIn plagiarism checker.

The Academic Integrity and Honesty Policy is available on the ACU Provost's Office webpage (<https://cdn01.acu.edu/community/offices/administrative/office-of-the-provost/academic-integrity-policy/expanded-definitions-and-advice.html>), where you may find detailed information regarding what constitutes academic dishonesty and resultant disciplinary actions. The student should seek clarification from the instructor regarding the re-use of work, as this may or may not be appropriate and is dependent on the assignment. Academic dishonesty may have, but not be limited to, the following consequences:

- losing points on an assignment.
- failing an assignment.
- failing a course.
- having a record of improper conduct in the dean's office which oversees the course in which the infraction was made.
- being dismissed from the university.

The process and timeline for appeals can be found on the ACU Provost's Office webpage.

Academic Integrity Violation Process for Discussions Boards

In cases where a student posts an initial blank post and then proceeds to post a second time to the discussion with their answer to the discussion prompt, the following discipline processes will be followed:

1st Violation of Blank Post in a Course - "0" on discussion portion (not reply portion) and the instructor will issue a written warning that the second violation will be considered an Academic Integrity violation.

2nd Violation of Blank Post in Same Course - "0" on discussion portion and the student will be reported to the Dean's Office as having conducted an Academic Integrity Violation. See the syllabus for information about the Academic Integrity Violation process and possible consequences.
