Comments
She answered emails pretty quickly whenever I had questions, she dropped the lowest grade while helping relieve some stress. I like how she included discussions, essays, and reflection, so it wasn't the same thing all the time.
Great choice having us read The Color of Compromise by Jemar Tisby. I learned so much from reading this book and feel that everyone should read it. The reflections and discussions were good.
The professor was wonderful, incredibly understanding and patient with me!
I think that the most effective thing that helped me in this course were the comments that were made on each of the assignments in a timely manner. I really appreciated those and let me know what I needed to do right the next time.
i like the group discussion and weekly reflections
The group discussions were a great way to interact with the class and understand the different perspectives behind issues.
She explain all her material good
Allowing students to have open discussions over topics.

What could the instructor do to improve the effectiveness of this course? Be specific.

Comments
With an online class, sometimes the instructions aren't received exactly correctly. Maybe you can have a zoom call every few weeks to explain instructions face to face.
–Essays could include credible sources that were not scholarly or peer-reviewed articles in the future. It could be news articles, Ted Talks, etc. – Midterm essay could be 500 words –Final essay could be 1,000 words –Reflections could be 100–150 words –Discussions could be just one initial post and commenting on two other students. Responding to students who commented on our initial post was excessive.
Personally, I think it's great how it is!
I think that there could have been a bit more guidance on some of the reflections, maybe like specific questions that need to be answered about each reading.
