Dear Kelly,
I am hunting for faculty reviewers again for our student led historical journal, Tenor of Our Times. I understand entirely if you have too much on your plate right now, but I think you would bring a very critical perspective to the process. We supply critique forms to make the process easier, but there is a limited turn around time.

Julie,

I replied to your FB message, as well, but yes, I am interested in this. Does the journal solicit papers from beyond Harding? I imagine I could probably convince some of our students here to submit if so.

best,
Kelly

Great! Kelly. So far we haven't gone beyond Harding students & alums, but we had talked about expansion initially. Our deadline is this weekend, though, so that might make it a little close. But... we could plan on it for next year? I think we'd love to have them for this year, but I'd hate to ask them to try to get it in by Monday. I'm attaching a link to the webpage with the specs for submission. <http://www.harding.edu/history/tenor> Send any papers to either me or creed3@harding.edu

Thank you, Kelly!

Thank you so much for agreeing to be editors for Tenor of our Times. I am attaching the papers which have been submitting as well as a ratings and ranking sheet. Please fill out one form for each of the 13 papers attached. If you don't have all 13, please let me know. Comment on argument, content, structure and grammar. It's all fair game. Please return the forms to me electronically by March 4th, as our editors have their decision meeting on the evening of March 5th. Thank you so much for your help and input.
